

Happiness = expectation vs reality

Expectation is inside

Reality is outside

Happening is mostly depends on how to make expectation

Expectation making process is a system work, like strategic management

Outside analysis + inside analysis + original desire => expectations

Expectation is specified into operation

Operation moves towards the result

Result vs expectations = feelings

Feelings is an new input for next expectation

System run as long as long